

Worm farm workshop

THE Busselton Community Garden was the starting point of new worm gardens in the town last weekend.

Rachel Kemp talked a group through how to create the garden and do their bit for the environment.

The sun came out for the participants who enjoyed the growing community garden between Strelley Street and Row Street.

Young Alice Hall gets into the enviro-friendly activity.

Shirley Smith prepares to load up her worm farm on Saturday afternoon.

Michael Tranter at the Busselton Community Garden.

Michelle Pascall and Rilla Beresford do some handy work.

Councillor Bethwyn Hastie gets her hands dirty at the worm farm garden along with Sarah Dowse and Penny Carter.

Worm farm whizz Rachel Kemp with Clare Underdown at the community garden.